

Joshua 1:9

Have not I commanded thee?
Be strong and of a good courage;
be not afraid, neither
be thou dismayed:
for the Lord thy God is
with thee whithersoever
thou goest.

Praise God In Everything!

It can be easy to praise God when our lives are going well. But when we are in the middle of difficult times, that's when it can be difficult to praise God.

When David wrote Psalm 63, he was in the wilderness on the run from his son Absalom who was revolting against him. As difficult as our lives can be sometimes, it's hard to imagine a more difficult situation than the one David was in. But even amid this, David praises God for His power and lovingkindness. (v.1-2) In fact, David's praise goes to the point of him saying that he thirsts for God like he thirsts for water in a dry and weary land. (v. 1)

David recognized that He needed God but also that God deserves to be praised regardless of the situation he finds himself in. We do not praise God because our life is in a good place or because we are in a good mood; we praise Him because He is worthy of praise and we need Him every day.
