

We rejoice in our sufferings, knowing that suffering produces endurance, and endurance produces character, and character produces hope, and hope does not put us to shame, because God's love has been poured into our hearts through the Holy Spirit who has been given to us.

Every Thought

In 2 Corinthians 10, Paul talks about the spiritual warfare we face in our lives. He reminds the Corinthian church that "though we walk in the flesh, we do not war after the flesh." (v. 3) The true battles that we face as Christians are spiritual, and they all start with our heart and the decisions we make. Paul goes on to say that the way we fight these battles is by taking every thought captive that we may live obediently to Christ. (v. 5) It is crucial that we do not battle these thoughts and temptations how we see fit but rather battle them how Christ sees fit. If we try to fight spiritual battles with human methods, we are doomed to fail.

God's battle plan may not seem normal to us, but we have seen Him use a teenager with a sling and a stone to defeat a giant, and He used an army marching around a great city to bring it crumbling down. It's not always easy, but when we trust God with every thought, He will lead us and deliver us from the enemy.
